“ ??China burns coal for most of its energy, and burns more coal every year. China is either the largest producer of carbon dioxide, or is on track to be so very soon. Chinese emissions alone are (I estimate) sufficient to exceed the limits on CO2 emissions which CAGW advocates claim must be met to avert CAGW.

“ It was nice to have found this blog on the early pictures of the Native American Indians. I am a photographer who specializes in wedding photography in Miami Fl and would of love to have seen some wedding pictures of the Native American. I was raised in Haiti where it was the very fist land that Christopher Columbus set his foot to the new world and came in with his conquistador. We unfortunately do not have any pictures of them because the Spanish had enslaved them and had killed them for gold. I am so glad to see Native Indians celebrating their existence.

“ Is there a way to print the calendar by week and month and have everything that you typed appear in the boxes? When I print, I lose some of the information because it is hidden and does not show on the printout.

“ Dear Dominie, I was a friend, as a little boy, of your brother David. We lived in an apartment across Wayne Avenue. My mother became friends with Agnes and stayed in touch with her and Dom til she died in 2005. I visited your mother in May of 2010 and thought she was in amazingly good shape for her age. My wife and I send you our condolences. I always exchanged Xmas cards with her and noticed that I didn't get one back this year. I would have written sooner had I known that she had passed on. She was a wonderful woman. Michael Guinn
