“ I found this out today from Chris Schriener. I am saddened beyond what I thought I'd feel. Dave was as smart, funny, and kind a guy that I'd grown up with. He was the first person I could always turn to in those important school years that would be reassuring and gentle. In the times when we can reach out and contact people after having lost that contact for so long, not having Dave to reminisce with is truly sad indeed. He had such a huge heart. My deepest sympathies to his surviving family, and my love goes out to you all.
