“ May our heavenly Father bless all who were touched by the life and spirit of Kathy and her memory remain in your heart forever. Her journey on earth has ended?and now, her eternal journey with the Lord has begun. Kathy's life journey was made easier with her dear and special friend, Lu Benekos. Their brief separation was only the blink of an eye and now they are reunited with the Lord in friendship for all eternity.Love,Genevieve Benekos/Chicago,ILMary Ann Olson/Waukegan,ILPeter Pates/Waukegan,IL

“ Kathy you are at peace among the Lord now. I have thought about you often and wondered if you were ok. I know you are safe and happy now. Kathy was like an Aunt to me growing up as I child. I will always remeber her love for music and playing the organ. Kathy would encourage us to sit by her on the bench. She always had a smile and loved her african violets.

“ Dear Kathy, I love and will miss you. Like your African Violets on the front window ledge, purple and pink your favorite colors, your loving memories will always bloom and in my heart will carry on. You were an Aunt to me. It seems like yesterday we talked about your cat and your dreams of traveling. Now you will be free, free in a beautiful and peaceful place with my Aunt Lu. With tears in my eyes I think of you. I thank God for all the times I shared with you. The beautiful memories of Christmass, Easter, eating strawberry pie at Pop n Fresh Pie, the winter you even slipped on the ice, shopping at Jewel and playing the organ. Thank you for so many beautiful memories I will always have of you. The Little Boy Blue and that Little Girl needpoints were so very special to you, me and my Aunt Lu. For we know how and why they were made. They were hung on the wall, made with love and great detail. That little girl, was made as a replica of me, the eyes were stiched and made like mine, so even when we were far away, you had the pictures as you told me. You treasured those pictures as did Aunt Lu for this I know you told me so. So much we shared throughout the years. We've cried together we've laughed together, you have been a blessing in my life. May the Angels guide you to eternal life. Forever happiness is now with you, that little girl that hung on the wall will always have a smile for you. God bless you and hold you tight may you watch over me from the heavans so bright. Love, Carrie
