“ You know, I just now realized that ??militant?? athiests are religious bigots by definition, and for good reasons too (or at least justifiable reasons.) Is it possible that the word ??bigot?? has too many negative connotations?

“ Dear Kathy and Megan: I was so sorry to hear of your loss - I know that nothing I say can be of any real comfort, but if there is anything I can do for you please just ask. I commend both of you on your courage to bring your husband and father home for his final days - I'm sure he was thankful for your selfless and brave act of kindness.

“ Dear Megan and Kathy: My deepest condolences to you both from across the miles. I was so sorry to hear from Tom and from Mom that Dick had been ill. My fondest memories of Dick occurred when we discussed our mutual love of books--especially history. He recommended several books that I hadn't read yet and subsequently added to my reading list. I also remember how fondly he spoke of Chicago. He said, "I would never live anywhere that didn't have a view of Lake Michigan." I will sorely miss him. ~cz

“ Dear Megan, My fondest memory is how funny your dad was after your wedding, at the reception. He looked so happy for it to be over and to be able to relax, he loosened his tie and had a cocktail and sat back, he looked like he'd just survived a marathon, but he was very happy for you and couldn't stop smiling.
